

Gill Hines Education and Parenting Consultant presents

The Complete Guide to Settling into School

For every parent with a child in Reception

This interactive two - hour workshop offers parents of children in Reception classes a chance to talk through all the issues starting school brings up.

We'll talk about how to help your child get along with others, how and when to talk to their teacher if problems occur, how to get them to tell you about their day, how to approach other parents to make play dates or talk about problems as well as how to help your child fit in and get on without too much fuss and upset.

The content for this session will be totally guided by the concerns and wishes of the participants – from anxiety to packed lunches, toilets to name calling or getting out of the house on time to bed wetting. No issue is too big or too small to talk about.

This is your chance to make sure you are giving your child the very best start to their school life.

Places are limited so booking is essential

Monday October 3rd,
Kingston Quaker Centre
7.30pm - 9.30 pm

To book or for more workshops and details click here or go to www.gillhines.co.uk

Some £1 places are available to those who need them. See website to apply.